I would like to join Scientists for Labour

- To work for the return and maintenance of a Labour government.
- To work to ensure that the government of the day maintains a clear commitment to science in the United Kingdom.
- To facilitate communication between the scientific community and the Parliamentary Labour Party, and to make available the advice and expertise of members of the Association to local and national Labour Parties and affiliated organisations.
- To promote greater debate and education on scientific matters, both within the Labour Party and nationally.
- To provide a forum for the discussion, debate and formulation of policy on matters affecting or affected by science, technology and research.
- To enable those working in science and technology to have a political voice.
